The State's Reuse Facility

New Hampshire Surplus, commonly referred to as WHITE FARM, serves as a repurposing center for state and federal surplus property. The nickname White Farm stems from the facility being located within a decommissioned dairy farm founded in 1846. Although the main building is in fact white, the moniker connects to the original owner, Nathaniel White, a man of historical significance to the State. White Farm was listed on the National Register of Historic Places in 1981. As part of its commitment to re-purposing goods as much as possible, the State uses White Farm's main complex and grounds to house recovered materials, for sale within the Retail Store and during Live and Online Auction cycles.

How to Acquire Surplus Federal Personal Property

For State Agencies and Public Organizations

Eligible state and local government agencies and nonprofit organizations can obtain personal property that the federal government no longer needs through the Federal Surplus Personal Property Donation Program.

Contact the Local State Agency for Surplus Property (SASP)

State agencies and public organizations seeking donations of surplus federal property should contact a SASP representative in their region. These state-run organizations coordinate with the federal program for the donation of federal surplus property to public, tax-supported entities and eligible private nonprofit tax-exempt organizations. SASPs evaluate all organizations and determine eligibility based on proof of eligibility through proper documentation. SASPs may provide search-only access for the Personal Property Management System (PPMS), which is a web-enabled platform where eligible customers can search for and select personal property.

SASP representatives will guide eligible entities through the rest of the process.

Note: Most SASPs operate on a self-sustaining basis and may require recipients to pay a service charge to cover handling, transportation, and administrative expenses. These charges are partly based on percentages of the value of the property.

Search for Property

Use PPMS to search for available surplus property.

Tips and Things to Consider....

- ▶ Think openly. Be Creative: Grants may not clearly target solid waste - get creative with thinking about how funding objectives can tie into solid waste.
- ▶ Consider partnerships: Appealing to funders. Non-profits and private businesses may be eligible for other grants that better align with your project.
- ▶ Will you need a consultant/engineer? See list of consultants provided.
 - ▶ Used by other SW facilities for monitoring, reporting, site design, etc.

DO YOUR OWN RESEARCH!

- ▶ NHDES has limited resources to help you select grants for your specific project.
- ▶ Talk to funders before you apply!
